Annual Report 2007 – 2008

Pradeergh Baithak

The VAK meeting held in Wada on 1st April 2007 was a landmark event because no such brainstorming had been done since the formation of VAK. All the participants took very active part in the discussions that went on for the whole day.

Shri Ravi Kumar ji was present as special invitee. He inaugurated the proceedings with an account of Sangh activities around the world and summarized that to have a successful and long lasting organization we need 4 things –

- Lofty vision
- Far sightedness
- Easy working method, adoption of successful ideas of other organizations
- Strong and dedicated team of volunteers

A Draft vision statement was adopted in the meeting that was as follows: ‘To become a leading thin - tank in the field of international affairs in Mumbai and disseminate an alternative and independent world view with Bharat-centric view point’.

There was near unanimity that there was a critical need for a think tank that would articulate alternative view points especially on subjects relating to international affairs. It was felt that equal importance needs to be paid to building up an organization, even if small or compact that would carry forward these thoughts in the society.

There was a session about strengthening and building the organization of VAK. The session also discussed the two annual programmes viz. Universal Brotherhood Day & Laxmanrao Bhide Memorial Lecture. It was felt that we need dedicated small teams to work for months to make them really successful.

It was felt that one of the prime ways of strengthening the organization was to have well structured monthly get together where new persons could be invited individually. It was explained that both Paschim and Purva have their monthly get together organizing groups. It was also felt that we need to devise our meeting so well that we can absorb new people who come with some expectations about our organization.

It was felt that the monthly bulletin should be restarted as a method of reaching out.

The crucial session about Finance was handled by Bimal ji. He felt that we could divide the expenses and financial requirements of VAK in two parts viz. day to day running of the organization and large programmes like U B Day and LBML etc. He suggested that instead of life membership of Rs. 1000/- alone, we could start a yearly contribution also from members and well wishers.

Shri Bimal ji suggested that we should publish lectures etc. that VAK organizes. As a starter he asked VAK to print a booklet on Late Laxmanrao Bhide lecture by Ma. Shri Sudarshan ji and also sell its Audio CD.

Visit of Swami (Dr.) Vigyananand ji

Swami Vignyananand ji is a scholar and pracharak of Vishwa Hindu Parishad in charge of overseas work. VAK organized two programmes for him.

Gautama Buddha and the spread of Buddhism in the whole of S E Asia in the last 2600 years. The exhibition was erected at the Hall of Vakola Welfare Association from 6th to 15th of August 2007. Ma. Ramprakash ji was felicitated at a grand function held on 28th October 2007 at Raheja Architecture College Hall, Juhu. The attendance was over 350 including a delegation of 15 from Myanmar. Lakshmanrao Bhide Memorial Lecture 2008

VAK and Uttan Vividhlakshee Shikshan Sanstha,

Keshavsrushti jointly organized the 2nd Lakshmanrao Bhide Memorial Lecture on 4th January 2008 at Alkesh Mody Auditorium, Kalina Campus, Mumbai. The programme commenced with a documentary film on Lakshmanrao Bhide portraying vividly his tireless efforts over four decades in uniting the Hindu community spread in various countries and continents. Shri Mukund Chitale, Chairman of Keshavsrishti presided over the function. Shri Surendra Sharda of Canada read a message for the occasion sent by Ma. Jagdish Shastri ji. Dr. Shankarrao Tatwawadi ji, Vishwa Vibhag Samyojak, introduced the two books that were released by Shri Mohanrao Bhagwat that evening viz. 'Moving Spirit behind Global Hindu Cause' and 'Memoirs of a Global Hindu'. The former is an English translation of the book on Bhide ji released a year ago. The latter, the memoirs of Ma. Jagdish Shastri ji, the story of growth and expansion of Sangh work outside Bharat in the last 6 decades.

Dr. Satish Modh, President of VAK briefly detailed the aims and objectives of VAK and explained the idea behind the Bharatvamshi Samaj Bhushan Puraskar.

Ma. Mohanrao Bhagwat, Sarkaryavah of RSS, honoured Swami Aksharananda by presenting him a shawl, sreefal, plaque and cheque for Rs 51000/-.

After a short presentation on Swami Aksharananda and his work in Guyana, Swami ji delivered the Keynote Address. He thanked VAK for selecting him for the award but said he considered it was given NOT for his personal achievements at all but his collective achievements along with others. Speaking on 'Challenges before Global PIO Community' he cited the recent Malaysia crisis and said that the Hindus there are conducting a vigorous effort for self-preservation and dignity. He also reminded about the severe security threat faced by Hindus of Kenya.

He declared that no group or organization civic or governmental has understood and addressed the problems of the PIOs as best as Sangh.

Ma. Mohanrao Bhagwat in his address said that the overseas activities of Sangh were not started by some national debate and resolutions but by swayamsevaks who went abroad out of the need they personally felt in organizing the Hindu community there.

“Over the last two generations, organizations inspired by Sangh have succeeded in uniting the Hindu society of various countries in different organizational names and kindled in them pride for Hindu culture and given them a sense of proper identity and security” he said.

He recalled the message given by Lakshmanrao Bhide ji at the First Training Camp held for swayamsevaks of vishwa vibhag in 1990 at Bangalore. “The First phase work was mainly aimed to make overseas Indians know their identity. The Second phase was oriented towards organizing them and making them known as a cultured and potential society. The thrust of the third phase is to have RSS of various countries that will transform the whole society as per the ancient call of vasudhaiva kutumbakam and krunvanto vishwamaryam for the good of all”.

He said he agreed with Swami ji’s point that the PIO community of the whole world would feel a sense of pride and security ONLY when the Hindus of Bharat will get organized. The only guarantee for a harmonious and peaceful world lies in the message of rishis of Bharat 'vasundhara parivar hamara'.

A resolution on the current crises in Malaysia and Kenya was adopted that appealed to the respective governments to provide security for life and property of PIOs there at all cost.

The attendance was over 350. Uttan Vividhlaksyee Shikshan Sanstha had sponsored the programme fully and has agreed to do so every year. Shri Vinayak Dixit, Treasurer of VAK contributed Rs 51000/- towards the Bharatvamshi Samaj Bhushan Puraskar that was awarded to Swami Aksharananda. We express our sincere gratitude and special thanks to him for this noble gesture. We have thus commenced a new initiative to honour an eminent PIO social worker for their outstanding community service. The award will be given every alternate year.
